Foreword

Our years as students at Somerset High have slipped past all too quickly. It seems like yesterday that we, as freshmen, nervously and timidly descended the steps of the school bus on that special first day which opened the door to new experiences, knowledge, and happiness. As graduates, we can look back and laugh, remembering how we crammed for exams, wrote last minute book reports, and enjoyed the excitement of the annual Case Rally.

The pages of this book are glimpses of faces, places, and events we know very well. Although names may become blurred and incidents be forgotten, the scenes frozen here through prose and photography are lasting. The action belongs to the past, but through reminiscence it will not remain in the past. The camera and the pen have reached out to touch the heart of student life, record its pulse, and fuse past with present and future. But more than the brawn of a sports event, this book tries to capture the spirit of 1969-1970. To capture the essence of our class as a whole with special attention given to each student as an individual is a momentous task to set for any book. Our success in attaining this goal will be measured by the extent to which each student makes this book more than just a symbol of his years at Somerset High. Each must stamp this book with part of his personality, thus making this book truly his.

In Appreciation

The choice for this year's dedication is somewhat unusual. Ordinarily one of the faculty members is chosen because they are the ones we come to know and admire while in high school. However, this year the class of 1970 has elected someone who is well known throughout the school, someone whose personality has touched almost everyone. It is with a great amount of pride and warmth that the class of 1970 dedicates The Raider 1970 to Mrs. Beatrice Correa.

As a secretary in the Guidance Department, she has made many friends among the faculty, the students, and the administration. She always has a smile and a kind word for everyone. It is for these things and much more that we appreciate Mrs. Correa and have chosen to dedicate our yearbook to her.

Principal Edward J. Kaylor

The principalship of a high school is a difficult job. It demands skill, intelligence, and hard work; this Mr. Kaylor has given and much more in the course of working with and for students. Mr. Kaylor has been principal to thousands of students over the past nine years. Now as our class of 1970 enters its senior year, Mr. Kaylor is leaving us to accept his appointment to the position of Curriculum Coordinator for the Secondary Schools of Somerset.

His unceasing effort and devotion have helped make Somerset High what it is today. In appreciation and recognition, the yearbook has taken these pages to express graphically and through photographs our gratitude for his deep interest in the school and in its students.

SUPERINTENDENT KILGREW

A very important part of our education in the Somerset School System is the fruitful efforts and accomplishments of our superintendent, Francis J. Kilgrew and his assistant, Thomas E. Daley. To these two administrators our special thanks for quality facilities and quality faculty members which together have given us the education we boast of.

Vice Principals

MISS RUTH B. MASON

MR. GEORGE E. MORRIS

MR. RICHARD MAHONEY

A familiar sight around Somerset High is our vice principals: Miss Mason, Mr. Morris, and Mr. Mahoney. Through their cooperation and assistance, our principal carries out the administrative responsibilities of our consistently progressive school. Here we salute our vice principals for making our school the forerunner it is in the greater Fall River area.

What Is a Faculty!

A faculty is a group of teachers, a group of people—but not just any group of people. A number of them, each with his individual personality, have served us during our four years of high school. They have become a part of our life. These people were the reason that we became interested in modern poetry, or spent our afternoons in the conference room. They have shaped and molded us to the best of their ability. And just to make sure we do not forget them, we have candidly caught them at what they do best—teach.

Principal McDermott

After completing four years as principal at the Somerset Junior High School, Mr. Carl W. McDermott has become the new principal of the high school. He was welcomed to his new position by both students and faculty on October 20, 1969.

Mr. McDermott brings with him a varied and impressive background in education. He graduated from the University of Maine in 1952 and worked for his Master's at Fitchburg State College. After his intense years of study, Mr. McDermott taught as a regular classroom teacher and then became principal at the junior-senior high school in Ayer, Massachusetts. Besides being a capable administrator, Mr. McDermott was a successful head football coach and guidance director in Winthrop, Massachusetts.

As the chief director of Somerset High School, Mr. McDermott envisions a school which would foster a sense of pride within each individual teacher and student. He believes that this may be accomplished by increasing the amount of responsibility given to the student. This would result in a cooperative educational community in which student and teacher would work together.

What Is a Senior!

A senior is a distant cousin of the species homo sapiens (wise man). There are many different varieties of this animal, each with its own set of tribalistic rules and rituals, cultures and mores. His place of habitation varies from the musty stacks of the Fall River Public Library to the swiveling stools of Friendly's. He thrives on a diet of hamburgers, hard rock, milkshakes, and Gibran.

One thing every senior has in common is having to surrender his freedom to the psychological imprisonment of a pastel colored labyrinth in which he is trapped for four years. However, at a certain point in the senior's life (known as graduation day), he sheds one sad tear as he leaves to fulfill his inevitable place in the species.

When You Are Old

When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down
this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love
false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul
in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur, a little sadly, how Love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

Spring
1969

Spring did not come quickly upon us in 1969. The weather was cold and wet until the end of April, at which time spring quickly leaped into New England. One day we were wearing thick wools and plaids, the next day we sported cool cotton clothes. The long tedious months of snow, slush and sleet were behind us. We could now look forward to warm weather, gentle breezes, an open courtyard, and the swings at Buffington Park. The final term of the school year arrived also, and while we seemed to be concentrating on books and finals, our thoughts had really turned toward summer.

Track 1969

The track team set a magnificent record in its 1969 season. It tied for second place in the Narry League. Coached by Mr. White and Mr. Lane, the team finished the season with a 6-4 over-all record and a 3-2 league record. This allowed the team to participate in the final Narry game with Old Rochester in which the opposing team squeezed through into first place by one point in an exciting game of 61-60.

Not only did the team excel in the Narry League competition, but it broke records at its own school. Captain Warren Goff broke the mile record (4:35); Francis Brough the half mile (2:03); Stu Davidson the 70 yard high hurdles (9.4); and John Carleton the 120 low hurdle (14).

Unfortunately, Mr. White announced his resignation as head coach. His knowledge of the sport and his guidance gave the members of the team pride in their school team. Fortunately, Mr. White will be succeeded by Mr. Lane and Mr. McDonald, who have both proven themselves to be excellent coaches in sports.

1969-J. V. Baseball

The J.V. Baseball team had another outstanding season under the leadership of Coach Bob Souza. The team had an overall record of 18 wins and 2 losses. Co-captains Bill Barrar and Al Silvia sparked the team with their enthusiasm and timely hitting. Outstanding among the players were Mark Robillard, Chuck Wright, Phi DeMarco, Richard Tetrault, and Mike O'Brien. These team members will probably see much action next year with the varsity baseball team.

Varsity Baseball 1969

"Outstanding" is the only word that could be used to describe the Somerset Raiders Baseball Team. Under the direction of Coach Jim Sullivan, coupled with fine pitching and a powerful hitting attack from Larry Thomas, the team ended its 1969 season with a Narry League record of 15-1 and the Narry League championship. Because of this, the Raiders were also eligible to compete in the semi-finals of the Southeastern Massachusetts Tournament in which they were unfortunately defeated by the varsity team from Holbrook 5-1.

Somerset had five players on the 1969 All Narry League first team. They were Larry Thomas, shortstop; Mike Klek, pitcher; Henry Velozo, pitcher; Jerry Remy, second baseman; and Tom McDermott, catcher. The latter two players will be returning to the Raider team in the 1970 season.

1969 S.H.S. Golf Team

During the 1969 season there were nine members on the Somerset High School golf team. They were selected from a group of twenty-four boys.

The team is most grateful to Mr. Edward Suspiro for his kindness in allowing S.H.S. to use Suspiro's Country Club for practice and home matches and also for the interest he has shown in the team.

Somerset played matches with Bishop Stang, Old Rochester, New Bedford, Durfee, Holy Family, and Dighton-Rehoboth. The team traveled 233 miles, playing away matches at Fall River Country Club, Whaling City Country Club, Crestwood Country Club, Allendale Country Club, and Reservation Country Club. This was a valuable experience since many of the team had only played at Suspiro's.

Peter Higgenbottom and Marc Gauthier represented Somerset at the Schoolboy Tournament at Pocasset Country Club in Falmouth. This trip is a thrill for the boys who go because only the top golfers of the competing school teams are allowed to go. The boys shot an eighty-eight and ninety-two respectively, four and eight strokes away from qualifying.

Each boy attended practice regularly and played a total of 207 holes of golf plus nineteen and a half hours of driving practice. This is approximately 50 miles of walking as well as 120 hours of time.

The team has been a credit to Somerset High School. Both at their home club and at host clubs, they have maintained the highest standards in the league as far as sportsmanslike conduct and personal conduct.

In recognition of their efforts, varsity letters and certificates were presented to the members of the team for the first time. The boys were very pleased to achieve varsity status. They purchased on their own, navy blue sweaters with the Raider emblem to present a "team image" and to show their school affiliation.

The girls' volleyball team of '69 had one of its best seasons in several years. Miss Corcoran, with the help of co-captains Lou Dallaire and Holly Kineavy, coached this invincible squad.

Each game was won due to the skill and teamwork of the six starting seniors. A set up by Sue Arruda could always be sure of the tap across the net by Beth Connors. The few times that Sue Augusto was unable to reach a serve, Linda Borges would impressively come to her aid and send the ball back to the opponent. Being in the right place at the right time, Lou and Holly proved themselves in each position. Throughout the season the underclassmen displayed great ability and received the guidance and experience that makes next year something to look forward to.

Every game was considered just as important as the next and the Raiderettes' undefeated season was rewarded by the highest honor—the championship trophy.

The Crucible

Endless quiet. The stage is a doomed setting bathed in a dim light, waiting for the flames of fear to set fire to its ebony tapestries. There is a blackout, and the slow throbbing of an ancient drum envelopes the audience with its ever-increasing frenzied beat. A piercing shriek! Noiseless again.

This was the effectively provoking prelude to the Somerset High Dramatic Club spring presentation. Arthur Miller's famed play, "The Crucible" was well received by its audiences which praised the ingenuity of its conception and the force of its performances.

The setting was Salem 1619, the site of the infamous witchcraft trials which brought a damning mar to New England during the Puritan era. The play received a provocative production by the cast and crew of the drama club and was one of the highlights of the cultural season.

Spring Concert '69

Emotions played a vital part in the musical highlight of the year. The annual Spring Concert, attended by a capacity audience, proved a challenging and rewarding program. It marked the final performance of the wind ensemble and orchestra under the direction of Mr. Stackpole. During his three years as the head of the music department at Somerset, he created an award-winning Blue Raider Band and an orchestra and wind ensemble which were rewarded with recognition wherever they performed.

Mr. Maggs presented his choral groups which garnered high acclaim during the evening. The newly formed Madrigal Singers premiered with three selections and then rejoined the concert choir. They all performed, accompanied by Mr. Stackpole's trio, a jazz treatment of The Fifty-Ninth Street Bridge Song.

The wind ensemble concluded the program with the much awaited U.S.S. Massachusetts March composed by Mr. Stackpole. It was awarded a standing ovation by the audience and Mr. Stackpole was made official band master for "Big Mamie."

The evening officially concluded all too soon with the wind ensemble's "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" from Wagner's Lohengren. The event was a tribute by the students to their director, Mr. Terrill Stackpole.

"Don't let it be forgot That once there was a spot . . ."

The 1969 Junior-Senior Prom, the theme of which was Camelot, was every bit as enchanting and delightful as Camelot itself. Thanks to the efforts of the prom committee, headed by Susan Durfee and supervised by Mr. White, the cafeteria was transformed into the whimsical and romantic kingdom of King Arthur.

This kingdom of fantasy was never so real as during the night of Camelot, the 1969 prom. As the couples whirled around the floor, the scenes of chivalry and the soft music changed an ordinary night into an evening in the ballroom of a snowy castle. The magic was completed in mid-evening when Camelot's King and Queen were chosen. Marilyn Neher and her escort Joe DaRosa rose to their thrones, and were surrounded by the queen's court. Susan Durfee with escort David Carleton, and Nanci Dator with escort Larry Rezendes. The close of the evening marked the beginning of a wonderful page of memories.

As the leaves turned color in the fall of 1969, our thoughts turned schoolward. Our summer had been a summer made up of the usual 4th of July fireworks and beach parties; a summer that was neither particularly exciting nor particularly boring and a summer which, like all the other summers preceding it, nevertheless had ended too soon for us.

The leaves began to fall as we tried to accustom our summer-weary minds to the rigors of school. No longer did the ringing of the telephone govern our lives; rather, it was the sound of the school alarm which determined when we should eat and talk, rest or study, move or remain stationary. We also became re-accustomed to other sounds we had not heard all summer—the beat of the big bass drum, the thud of the football as it was kicked skyward, the trampling of feet as blurs of color raced to gain possession of the ball, the screams of the people as one lone figure raced toward possible glory, the cheers of the crowd when he made it.

Field Hockey

Captained by Betsy Bigelow and Paula Dionne, the '69 Field Hockey team had a great season. Coach Bernadette Murphy led the girls to many victories, and at the close, Somerset placed second in the Bristol County Girls' League. Denise McCarraher, Cathy Burns, Sharon Higginson, Jean Robillard, and the two captains played their final games as seniors, but the ability and spirit of the underclassmen make next year a promising one.

Cross Country

Coach Richard Bernardo's harriers completed the 1969 season with an amazing 9-1 record. The team placed second in the Narry League.

Several individual members of the cross country team distinguished themselves during the season. Captain Francis Brough achieved the highest number of individual wins. Ed Lussier, Richard Pyatt, Kevin Gartner, and Alan Gagne all earned excellent records. Captain Brough and Ed Lussier were honored by being chosen for the All-Star Team by the league coaches.

1969 Football

This year, Coach Jim Sullivan piloted the Raiders to an undefeated Narry League season with a 4-0 record. Overall they were 7-2, losing to Class C co-champion Falmouth, and to Canton.

Somerset had one of the top scoring teams in the area, accumulating 234 points under the capable direction of senior quarterback Tom McDermott, who threw 11 touchdown passes. Junior Joe Berube was the team's leading scorer with 58 points, and Eddie Ward was second with 52 points.

The Raiders' success can be attributed to their potent offense which averaged 26 points per game. Their rigid defense allowed only 11.5 points per game. The defense was so effective that many of the opposing teams scored only in the final minutes of the game.

Co-captains Dave Seward and Tom McDermott did a fine job in guiding the team on and off the field. Somerset's offensive line, on which the average weight was 152 pounds, did a tremendous job against the heavier defensive lines of their opponents. Bill Wrobleski, Dave Seward, Alan Silvia, Rich Wolstencroft, Frank Rapoza, Bill Petrillo, and Steve Clark, who composed the offensive line, made the important blocks so that Eddie Ward, Joe Berube, Gary Velozo, and Jeff Rothwell could score the touchdowns.

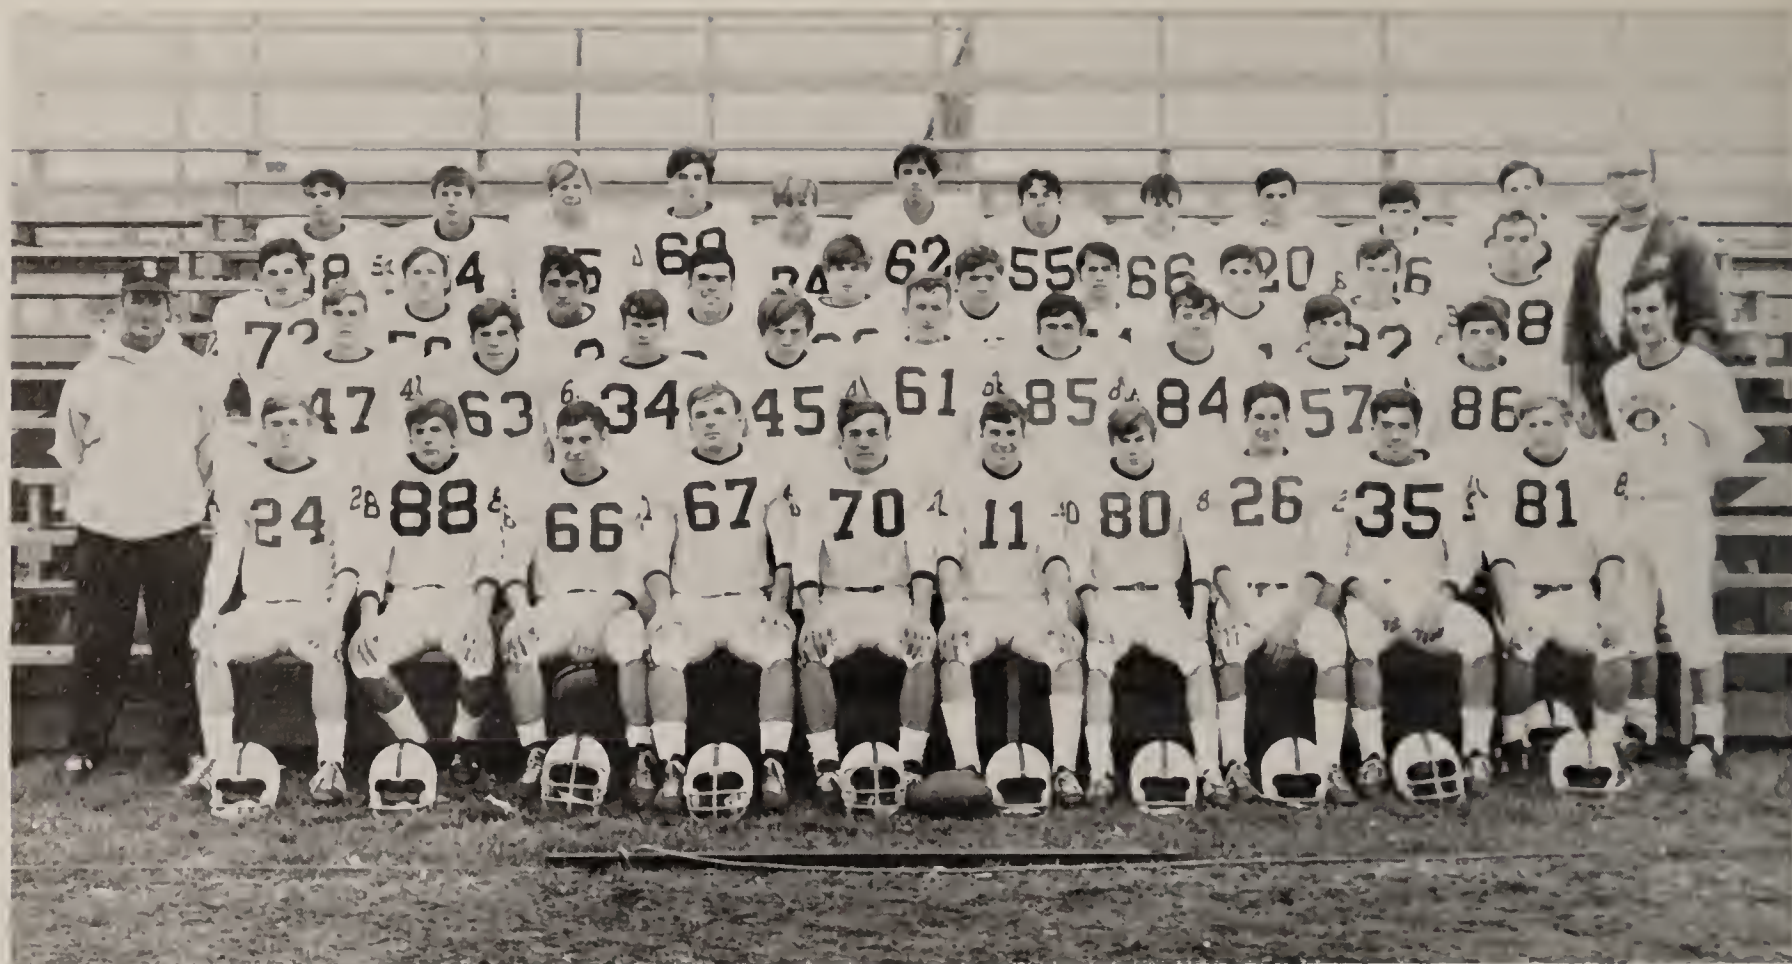

Eddie Ward set a school record for the longest touchdown interception, against Mansfield—103 yards.

Blue Raider Marching Band

Color, excitement, spirit—these characteristics typify the Blue Raider Marching Band. Winner of awards, praised wherever it goes, the band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Perry, is a worthy entrant in any competition. The members of this spirited organization, comprised of more than one-hundred students, are truly proud to represent Somerset High School as the Blue Raider Marching Band.

During the past marching season, the band made its second trip to North Adams, and won fourth place in the much enlarged competition. With an array of brightly colored flags and precision marching, this spirited organization is a respected part of the school, whether it be during football season or while marching in a holiday parade.

Thanksgiving

The Raiders captured the Narry League championship Thanksgiving Day by defeating Case at Veterans Memorial Field.

On the second play of the game, junior Joe Berube raced 56 yards for a touchdown. A Tom McDermott pass to Bill Wrobleski in the end zone gave Somerset an 8-0 lead.

Case scored after they blocked a Dave Driscoll punt that was recovered at the Somerset nine yard line. Right up to halftime Somerset had a slim 8-6 lead.

The second half was a completely different story with Somerset scoring each of the three times that they had the ball. The first of McDermott's three scoring passes was a 22 yarder to Bill Wrobleski. The next was a 60 yard pass to Eddie Ward, and the last score of the game was credited to Bill Wrobleski.

Credit should also go to offensive stars Gary Veloza, fullback; Dave Seward, tackle; Steve Clark, end, and Rich Wolstencroft for their fine performances. On defense Brian Sullivan, cornerback; Jeff Rothwell, cornerback; Rich Paul, tackle, and Kevin Kaylor, linebacker; were all very impressive.

The J.V.'S

The J.V. Football team had an undefeated season with a 6-0 record. Coach Souza's teams have lost only five games in five years and only two of them were Narry League contests.

The J.V.'s had an explosive offense which scored over 200 points and a rigid defense which allowed 14 points during the season. Ed Mello, Dave Driscoll, Mike O'Brien, Rick Martin, and Bruce Castonguay were outstanding on offense. Captain Alan Silvia, Carl Ciafardini, Dean Thurston, Harvey Tripp, and Dave Katon were the defensive stand-outs. These boys should make a substantial contribution to the Varsity football squad next year.

Dried and fragile were the leaves as they skittered beneath our feet. The football field was empty now; the trees were bare. The color-bright world of fall had been changed to a world of gray and pewter tones. The only sounds heard now were those of the brittle branches of the trees clicking against each other when the wind blew. Collars were turned up and faces could barely be seen. Because of the cold, the new, long coats were practical as well as stylish.

Snow fell in December, and with it fell the hopes that snow shovels and tires would not have to be used in the 1969-70 winter. While for some people the snow proved to be a hindrance, to others it proved to be a joy. Skis and toboggans could be seen strapped to the roofs of many cars. Some were headed toward New Hampshire, while others were destined for the slopes on North Park.

Vespers

The annual Christmas Vespers of 1969 proved to be a memorable one. A diversified program to suit any musical taste was presented to a capacity audience who responded to the program with much applause and enthusiasm.

Performing at the event were the various musical organizations directed by Mr. Robert Perry and Mr. Bruce Maggs. Traditional Christmas melodies were contrasted with contemporary pieces and were blended with inspiration into a harmonious program of Christmas music.

Highlights of the program included the Folk Group, Madrigal Singers and the Drama Workshop who performed contemporary dance sequences to the exciting "Masque." Christmas Vespers 1969 was a blending of past and present, traditional and modern—a musical program of distinction.

Varsity Basketball

Rigorous is the word that best describes the 1969-70 varsity season. Coached by Mr. Tom Burns and then Mr. Raymond McDonald, the Somerset hoopsters weathered a very tough season.

The overall record was 7 wins and 13 losses; Narry League games are recorded at 7-9. Much of this uphill battle was experienced by seniors Bill Wrobleski (captain), John O'Neil, and Ed Ward. But the underclassmen are not to be forgotten, for quite often the starting five had four underclassmen.

The team as a whole made an especially good showing in the Old Rochester game. Despite the exceptional height disadvantage and the 13 point lead by Old Rochester in the first half, the victory fell to the Somerset Raiders. Likewise the last game of the season was hard fought against undefeated Case. The Raiders held the Cardinals scoreless in the first 13 minutes of the game.

With such fine athletic material in the J.V. and freshman ranks this past season, next year should prove an exceptionally fine season for Somerset hoopsters.

J. V. Action

Somerset's basketball team of the future, the J.V.'s, coached by Mr. James White, had a really successful season winning 19 out of 23 overall. Of the Narry League games, the record read 13 wins out of 16 games. This put the team up in second place.

The J.V. season had many different heroes because many of the players moved up into varsity action. Leading the way in the early going were juniors Bruce Emmett, Drew Cummings, and sophomores Mike Jenkinson and Dave Driscoll. Sooner or later each was chosen to enter varsity competition. This moved Kevin Snell and Don Henriques into the ranks as J.V. stars. For Mike it was a real gain. He became top scorer with 152 points and a 10.1 average.

Also, this year a new system of rotating captains for the team was instituted. Each game afforded different players the challenge of leading the team as captain. In this way the responsibility for the team was more equally divided among the players.

The '70 Season

Jubilation in victories and tears in defeat describe the Raiderettes' season. To quote Miss Sheila Fitzgerald; she coached "... individuals caught somewhere between the innocence of childhood and the essence of womanhood." The Raiderettes practiced long, played hard, and walked off the court knowing they had done their best regardless of a win or loss.

Acting as tri-captains were Marsha Medeiros, Diane Lapointe, and Pat Gariepy; who with the help of their teammates made every second count and put in that extra effort. Forwards Bonnie Connors and Kathy Johnston worked together to make that perfect shot, while guards Karen O'Keefe and Cindy Peterson always rebounded and quickly sent the ball to the offense. Other players who saw varsity action were Karen Leonard, Brenda Lussier, and Brenda Lynch all proving to be valuable assets to the squad. The forthcoming year looks like an exciting and profitable one for the Raiderettes.

Spring — 1970

The last spring of our high school years showed itself early in April with the coming of sun and warm weather. Within a few days, however, it vanished out of New England, pushed out by a burst of cold weather from the West. By May, however, spring had made its return, and after several weeks of warm and sunny days, we assumed it had decided to stay. No longer would we have to rely on heavy coats for warmth, or thick-soled boots to keep us dry. The sun was now here, and our days would be warm. We welcomed this warmth and were thankful for spring.

TRACK

The 1970 track team compiled an outstanding 11-1 record for its twelve meets of competition. The Raiders were Narry League Champions and winners of the Narry Relays and the major Narry Meet.

Mr. Lane and Mr. McDonald, coaches of the 1970 Narry Champs, worked hard to build the team which outscored its opponents in nine dual meets 600 2-5 —331 3-5 points. The tri-captains, Fran Brough, Dave Seward, and Stu Davidson were among the team's eight record holders. Dave Seward became the 1970 State Champ in the javelin and he placed sixth in New England competition. Fran Brough placed fifth in the All Class State Meet.

Steve Clark was awarded the Most Valuable Trophy. Steve compiled 158½ points during the season with his best performances in the 100 yard dash (10.2 sec.), 220 yard dash (23.2 sec.), and the long jump (20'10").

Seniors who sparked the team were Bill Hall in the long jump, Bill Petrillo in the discus, and Richard Paul in the javelin and discus.

Narry Champs Again

The varsity baseball team had another sensational year with a record of 20-3 overall and a 15-1 league record. The Raiders were Narry League champions for the second consecutive year. Coach Jim Sullivan's team was defeated in the semi-final game of the Eastern Massachusetts State Tournament by North Attleboro 3-2 after seventeen innings.

Gerry Remy, a draft choice by the Washington Senators, and Captain Tom McDermott led the team in hitting with batting averages of .491 and .480 respectively. Gerry had ten triples and four home runs on the year.

In the pitching department, Mark Robillard was the best pitcher in the league. Mark, a junior, had an 8-0 record and had a 0.25 earned run average. Gary Velozo and Chuck Wright were also outstanding throughout the year. Seniors Brian Sullivan, Bill Wroblewski and Eddie Ward all played well in their final year for Coach Sullivan and Somerset High.

In all, the club hit .339 with 216 hits, 208 runs, 148 RBI's and 13 home runs in 20 games. In pitching the club fanned 166 batters in 145 innings, allowed 83 hits and yielded 38 runs with only 27 earned runs.

Softball '70

Seniors, Paula Dionne and Jean Robillard, acted as Captains of the 1970 Softball Team. Miss Corcoran coached her final Raiderette team and she will not easily be forgotten for all she has always done for the girls and teams at Somerset High.

The season was mainly a building one. Newcomers learned the techniques anew for last year's team was comprised mostly of seniors; therefore, there were many techniques to be learned and plays which in the future will prove useful to the team. Much ability and dedication was exhibited by this group of hard playing girls. Now all anxiously await next year's season as a favorable challenge.

Captained by Marsha Medeiros, Somerset had a vibrant and impressive volleyball group. Whenever the team was on the firing line, Miss Corcoran instilled the players with the necessary initiative and the game took on new proportions. With so many members returning next year, the 1971 season could prove to be the championship year.

Mrs. McThing

A grueling 12 weeks of rehearsal and many hundreds of hours of set designing and costume planning resulted in the outstanding performance of Mary Chace's "Mrs. McThing." The play was presented to the Somerset public on the evenings of May 15 and 16 at the high school auditorium.

"Mrs. McThing" recounts the story of Mrs. Larue, a wealthy widow, whose son Howay is spirited away to a pool hall where he encounters three gangsters, a virtuoso chef, a dancing waiter, and "a dear little white rose." Mrs. Larue eventually meets the same fate herself, but after a time, she rallies herself and the others to take back her house from the "sticks" who inhabit it.

All actors did exceptionally well. Particularly excellent were Nancy Lawrence and Jeffrey Ginsberg, as Mrs. Larue and Poison Eddie Schellenbach, respectively. These two actors were likewise responsible for the fine costumes and sets of the play. However, it was Mrs. Strickman's husband Leo Strickman who was the driving force behind the actual performance. Without his assistance the play would not have been the success it was.

The Arts Festival

On the evenings of May 29 and 30, the high school was transformed into the site of the greatest arts festival ever held in Somerset. The activities were coordinated by Mr. Perry, Mr. White, Mrs. Strickman, and Mr. Maggs who were representatives of the music, art, and drama departments.

During the two performances on Friday and Saturday nights, the orchestra, wind ensemble, folk group, jazz band, concert choir, girls glee, and madrigals performed. The drama department, headed by veteran performers offered scenes from "Mrs. McThing," "Charlie Brown," "Virginia Woolf," and "Luv." Mr. White's art department displayed paintings and other works of art throughout the courtyard. Key solo performances were given by various students as highlights of both evenings. This marked Somerset High's first Arts Festival, an event to be emulated in the years ahead.

Class Banquet

The evening of June 4, 1970, brought with it a cool breeze, the promise of a good morrow, and the Senior Banquet for the class of 1970. The banquet, held at White's Family Restaurant, was officially opened by class president Norman Mello, who introduced the toastmaster, Principal Carl McDermott. Mr. McDermott welcomed the members of the senior class; the meal was then begun.

Following the meal, which consisted of "turkey and all the homestyle fixins," Mr. Kaylor, special guest, expressed his faith in the class of 1970. He then congratulated Miss Mason on her 43rd year as senior class advisor and went on to comment, "She'll probably survive us!"

The highpoint of the evening came with the presentation of the dedication of the yearbook to Mrs. Beatrice Correa. A standing ovation was given as she expressed her appreciation for the honor.

The entertainment for the evening was provided by Michael Gaspar, Ronald Frizado, and Conrad Benoit. Ronny and Mike sang two popular ballads, and after the reading of the class will, Conrad sang an original composition. The evening was brought to a close with the singing of the Alma Mater, and as the saying goes, "A good time was had by all!"

So fantastic were the decorations that the gym had ceased to exist and in its place was a world all of us hope to live in some day. It was a world which, for all the people and noise, seemed calm and tranquil, a world where one could be at peace. It was a world of color and activity, of static flower trees and bubbling fountains. The queen of this wonder world was Gail Pyatt, escorted by Ed Morgan, and her court maidens were Karen Leonard and Michele LeComte, escorted by Bill Barrar and Russell Desmarais.

Graduation '70

For four years, we of the class of '70 had sweated and toiled, had played and laughed, had cheered and rallied in this school. For four years we had run through its corridors, hurried to our lockers and rushed off to classes, hoping to be on time but often times arriving late. Now, suddenly, it was over—totally and completely finished. We were no longer members of the school. We were graduates. Many of us did not realize that our high school days were over, even on June 10, the day of our graduation. Many of us failed to realize we were leaving high school even after we had marched into the gym, marched in to the strain of Pomp and Circumstance and listened to a benediction, a speech by Mr. McDermott and yet another one by Mr. Kilgrew. Scholastic scholarship and even graduation speeches by Rhonda Friedman and Robert Jackson failed to make us realize we were graduating.

But slowly, as each one of us in that class of 1970, sitting so coolly in our seats in the gym filed by and got his diploma, slowly the feeling of realization crept over us. As we walked back to our seats, some of us felt joy, and others felt sorrow; some wept, and others laughed; some remained seated in silence. But no matter how our emotions differed, each one of us realized the same thing. Each one of us knew that we were part of a past history of Somerset, that we and our class were past, and we felt old at the age of eighteen.

Portugal with Pleasure!

On April 19, 1970, twenty-seven Somerset High students boarded a TAP airlines jet and traveled to Portugal. The trip had finally become a reality after many months of preparation. We, the students who dared venture to this far off land received a glimpse of Portuguese culture long before our arrival in Lisbon, for the meal served on the jet was Portuguese cuisine.

After our arrival, we traveled to all the major monuments of Lisbon and the surrounding areas. Mafra, Obidos, Nazaré, Coimbra, Sintra, Fatima, and Estoril were just some of the beautiful places we visited. By the middle of the week, spirits were riding high, as we began to mingle with Portuguese students of our own age. This was the most impressive and lasting memory of the trip. The people were exceptionally friendly and likeable.

As the week came to a close, we reluctantly packed for our return trip home. Although the excursion seemed much too short, lasting in our memories will be the country, the culture, the people, and the wine!
